

The Bridge

This is the bridge
That we can cross
And these are the borders
That we have lost
These are the feet
On solid ground
And here are the ruins
Of convictions

These are the kisses
That give birth
And these are the words
That came from the void
This is the music
We heard in the wind
And here is the tree
With its roots in heaven

This is the mirror
That shows your face
And this is the well
We drink from
This is the torch
That lights up the way
And here is the rainbow
That was meant to be

Let's dance
This is the bridge
Let's dance
This is our life
Let's dance
Let's dance
Let's dance
